Ancestral Ring – Another name for the Stargate

Ancients – old race. They explored and used the Stargate to seed the galaxy with humans. Eventually came across a sleeping race, the Wraith. They woke them and, due to arrogance, were unable to contain them. The Wraith laid siege for several years before the Ancients decided to abandon the Pegasus galaxy, putting their city to sleep and sinking it under the water to protect it. The few survivors retreated through the Stargate to Earth where they lived out their lives among the humans, presumably mating with some of them since some humans carry the Ancient gene. There may still be survivors out there somewhere.

Apparently experimented on several sentient races and may have created the Wraith. It's also possible that they created a virus that will kill humans but not Ancients. The ancients created a mechanical life form to be a weapon to fight the wraith. They were programmed with extreme rage and aggressiveness but were forbidden from harming their creators. When they did not turn out as the Ancients planned, the ancients tried to kill them all. A few bits survived and now number in the millions

Protected by 4 grounding stations. Is really a space craft that's settled in a planet. It is 18 days in hyperspace from Earth to Atlantis. Now that Atlantis has a working ZPM, they can gate to Earth, but not gate back.

Aurora – Ancient warship. The Captain was carrying Intel on a weakness of the Wraith. The ship was attacked and the crew put into stasis. It was found by the Atlantis people and eventually destroyed to keep the Wraith from getting their hands on it.
